I am a journalism professor at a major east coast university and I completely agree with you. I follow Nieman but this is an article designed to insinuate that 1) Trump supporters who happen to be religious are delusional 2) conservative media that don't tout the democrat party talking points are disseminating 'fake news.' I will no longer use Neiman as a source.

I think that this attitude — permanently rejecting a news source because it accurately reports something you don't like — is exactly what you want in a journalism professor, yes? Also, spell our name right, Francesca Viola of Temple University

For what it's worth, Temple journalism professor Francesca Viola also believes Seth Rich was murdered by Hillary Clinton and the DNC

Really, you hater? I'm a college professor and an attorney; I'm not overweight and I don't drink. I watch Hannity and he is absolutely right about this Seth Rich thing. You are obviously a bitter democrat who doesn't want to face up to the fact that the DNC is corrupt, and like Hillary will do anything to preserve power...even murder.

Wrong. Seth Rich leaked the DNC plot to sabotage Bernie to Wikileaks. The DNC had him killed. This Russia story was manufactured as a distraction. You stupid libs keep pushing the Russian narrative with not one shred of evidence. And don't tell me "19 intelligence agencies say so." But notice they never offer solid factual evidence. But if there's any justice, the truth will come out. Just like we learned eventually that the democrat talking points about the Benghazi murders being caused by an anti-Muslim video were a lie, the democrat attempt to deflect from their corruption and murder saying "the Russians did it" will be proven true yet another lie. Keep it up Dems. You'll just keep losing elections till you cease to exist as a party. I can hardly wait.

Deep State Leaks Highly Classified Info to Washington Post to Smear President Trump

I'm not reading Drudge anymore. Ever since Trump got elected he links to the lib mainstream media way to much. Starting to think there's been a management change.

many never utter such toxic evidence, and if the justice, the truth will come out. Just like we lost eventually that the democrat talking points also Benghazi murders being caused by an anti-Muslim war, the democrat attempt to deflect from corruption and murder saying "the Russians did proven to be yet another lie. You have no idea what my religion is and the reason Trump won is because more people voted for him than your girl. And save your breath on the tired refrain that Hillary won the popular vote because of some illegal votes cast in California. Yawn. So thank God people with common sense outnumber people like you.

Oh, she also believes that Trump actually won the *real* popular vote, which was warped by "some illegal votes cast in California"
